Times of Ist April, 1990;

(b) if so, whether the Chief Justice of India has stated that emotional phobia of creating a climate of settlement should be avoided while taking decisions in Lok Adalats;

(c) whether Government propose to direct the Lok Adalats to consider cases only as recommended by Chief Justice of India; and

(d) if so, what is Government's view in the matter?

THE MINISTER OF COMMERCE AND TOURISM (SHRI ARUN KUMAR NEHRU): (a) and (b) Yes, Sir.

(c) and (d). The Lok Adalat is one of the approved Strategic Legal Aid Programmes adopted by the Committee for Implementing Legal Aid Schemes set up by the Central Government. The Chief Justice of India is the Ex-officio Patron-in-Chief of this Committee. The Lok Adalats, which function on the basis of voluntary settlements on conciliation, are being organised by the State Legal Aid and Advice Boards in different parts of the country for resolution of disputes. These Lok Adalats are often attended by the Executive Chairman and other officers of the Committee for Implementing Legal Aid Scheme and there is a constant food back regarding the functioning and achievements of Lok Adalats being held in various parts of the country. There is nothing in the existing Scheme nor in the Act which is yet to be enforced to limit Lok Adalat cases on the basis of specific recommendation of the Chief Justice.
